England's Inexhaustible Supply.

When the Transvaal war was at its height, Paul Kruger sent a commissioner to England to find out if there were any more men left there. The commissioner wired from London to say that there were 4,000,000 men and women knocking about the town; that there was no excitement, and that men were begging to be sent to fight the Boers. Kruger wired back, "Go north." The commissioner found himself in Newcastle eventually, and wired to Kruger: "For God's sake, stop that war! England is bringing up men from h-l, eight at a time, in cages." He had seen a coal mine.—Argonaut.

TROUBLE ON THE BEACH.

Bathers on the Atlantic Coast Have Unpleasant Experiences with a School of Jellyfish.

The jellyfish has grown worse, writes an Atlantic City correspondent of the Philadelphia Press.

Last Sunday when he and his clan invaded the breakers he was treated more as a joke than anything else.

But he has evidently made up his gelatinous mind to stay at Atlantic City, and since last Sunday has floated around every day at bathing hour, and brushed up against the multitude.

The other day, for some reason or another, he developed a vicious tendency, did this jellied mass of floating inconsequence, and when he brushed against one, like an illiterate person might do, he left his mark.

A collection of little red dots was what this memento appeared at first, and as on other days, it produced an itching sensation. But the effect was not transient as it was on other days. It had further developments, as most of the boardwalk druggists can testify.

Arm, leg, face, as the case might be (for your jellyfish is not particular, and an angular face appeals to it quite as potently as a well-rounded arm), began to swell. Heretofore the jellyfish had confined his attentions to producing an itching sensation. Now he began a series of really swell experiments.

At the least estimate no less than 100 persons sought relief in the boardwalk drug stores for some alleviation of the swelling produced by the sting of the jellyfish. One young woman, a New Yorker, found that her arm had swollen to such proportions that it was impossible for her to put on her shirtwaist that hung in the bathhouse. Witch hazel was sent for, and a half-hour's assiduous rubbing with this remedy brought the swelling down to such proportions that the young woman could dress and go to her hotel.

Nor was her case an isolated one. Nearly every bather who came in contact with a jellyfish that day found that swelling speedily followed in the wake of the fish's visit.

The reason for this unusual performance on the part of the flabby protozoan is not forthcoming. Why his sting on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday should produce itching, and on Thursday should result in swelling is a nut too hard for old sea salts or medical men to satisfactorily crack.

"You can't tell how them jellyfish will act," was what an old fisherman said, while a doctor took off his glasses, polished them, adjusted them, and then said gravely: "It's the feminine jellyfish that always makes the trouble, and no one—not even a doctor—can tell what a feminine will do, or why she does it."

Which was only another way of saying what the fisherman said.

Operation on an Elephant.

A difficult operation was performed the other day at the zoological gardens at Hanover, England. An elephant was suffering great pain from a growth on the lower part of one of his hind feet, and it was deemed necessary to cut this malformation away. In order to render the animal insensible a dose of 600 grains of morphia in six bottles of rum was administered. This dose took about an hour before any visible effect was produced. The elephant fell over in a kind of sleep, and the operation was successfully carried out without any further ado. The operation lasted three days.—N. Y. World.

How He Loved Her.

A negro man went into Mr. E—'s office for the purpose of instituting a divorce suit against his wife. Mr. E— proceeded to question him as to his grounds for complaint. Mr. E— looked up from his papers, and saw that big tears were running down over the cheeks of the applicant for divorce.

"Why," said the lawyer, "you seem to care a great deal for your wife? Did you love her?"

"Love her, sir? I jest analyzed her!" This was more than professional dignity could withstand, and Mr. E— laughed until the negro, offended, carried his case elsewhere.—Short Stories.

World to End This Year.

This is the recent decision of one of the prominent societies of the world, but the exact day has not yet been fixed upon, and while there are very few people who believe this prediction, there are thousands of others who not only believe, but know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best medicine to cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, biliousness or liver and kidney troubles. A fair trial will certainly convince you of its value.

The Real Proof.

GRAND TRUNK EULOGIZED.

Governor of Minnesota and Party Passes Flattering Resolution.

During the month of June the Grand Trunk Railway System transported the Minnesota Press Ass'n by special train from Chicago to Buffalo, Buffalo to Toronto and return to Chicago. Governor Van Sant and suite accompanied the newspaper party to be present at the dedication of the Minnesota State Building, returning home with the western scribers. The following is an extract from a letter addressed to the Company by Governor Van Sant:

"I take great pleasure in informing you that in the car containing my staff, self and party, a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing much pleasure on account of the splendid treatment accorded us by the Grand Trunk Railway and their representatives. The adoption of the resolution was moved by Senator Clapp, seconded by Col. Monfort, and unanimously adopted."

The Wrong Effect.

"Do you think De Squaler is helping the cause with his temperance songs?" "I'm sure he isn't. When he sang last night four men who never drank in all their lives before went out and got on a spree!"—San Francisco Bulletin.

MADE STRONG AND WELL

A Prominent Lady Raised From a Sick Bed Pe-ru-na---Entirely Cured in Two Weeks.

MRS. E. A. CROZIER.

Mrs. E. A. Crozier, Senior Vice President of the James Morgan Post, W. R. C., the largest corps in Minnesota, writes from "The Landour," 9th and Nicollet, Minneapolis, Minn., as follows:

"Please accept hearty thanks on behalf of Peruna, that wonderful medicine which raised me from a sick bed and made a strong and well woman of me in two weeks. I suffered with bearing-down pains, backache and continual headache, and found no relief until I tried Peruna. It cured me completely, and I feel as young and well as when 18. I wish every woman knew the merits of the medicine, and no home would be without it."—Mrs. E. A. Crozier.

Mrs. William Henderson, Bordulac, N. C., writes:

"I was troubled with very serious female weakness; had spells of flowing that exhausted me so that I feared I would lose my mind. I suffered untold agony with my back, the pain extending down my left leg. My pain was so severe that I would have welcomed death at any moment—so no one need wonder that I recommend Peruna so highly, for it cured me entirely of that. Not a sign of pain has returned, and that will soon be two years now."

"I am glad that there is a way I can speak, trusting that many a sufferer will read my testimonial, and not only read but believe."—Mrs. Wm. Henderson.
